Innovative Valentine's Day Gift Ideas from Andatech

*Strategy.
Action.
Results.*

Australia's innovative supplier of safety and wellness products, Andatech, has a raft of Saint Valentine's Day gift ideas for every kind of love.

To keep loved ones safer on the road, the perfect gift for him or her is an AlcoSense personal breathalyser. Using fuel cell technology, AlcoSense breathalysers provide accurate blood alcohol concentration (BAC) readings and are easy to use, compact and affordable.

A DriveSense dash cam is also a vital safety device these days with many drivers proving to their insurance company they aren't at fault, which can save them thousands of dollars.

A Hummer lithium ion power bank jump starter can provide up to 20 jump starts in a single charge. They are capable of jump-starting vehicles up to 7.0L in engine size, making them an essential emergency tool should your loved one have a dead battery.

Andatech's range of wellness products include dehumidifiers, air purifiers, a multi-function aroma diffuser, a vegetable juicer and a breath ketone meter.

So rather than chocolates this Valentine's Day, think practical and give a gift that will keep your loved one healthy and safe.

Personal breathalysers start from $219, air purifiers start from $199 (take $100 off in January) and dehumidifiers start from $199. The Ionmax Serene Aroma Diffuser, which is also a negative ioniser, air humidifier and alarm clock is $95.

Andatech is donating 50 per cent of its profits for the whole of January to the Salvation Army Disaster Appeal to help bushfire affected communities.
