

Premier Ship Models Announces Collaboration with New Suppliers and Manufacturers

Melbourne, Victoria, February 02, 2018: Leading retailer of exquisite ship building kits and accurate readymade ship models, Premier Ship Models, announced that it has partnered with new suppliers and manufacturers. This is another step in the company's attempt to provide only the best quality and most accurate ship models and kits for its customers.

Among the company's new partners are Mini Mamoli, Model Shipways, Old Modern Handicrafts, Panart, SDL Imports and Sergal. These partners have been specifically chosen for their excellence in creating realistic and accurate models and kits. For instance, Mini Mamoli is known for its highly detailed, authentically scaled and high quality kits that are easy to build, while Old Modern Handicrafts has made a name for itself with its 100% hand built models that are based on extensive research.

SDL Imports is a family business, catering to the UK nautical giftware market. The brand aims to provide high quality products at competitive prices. SDL also provides a unique range of traditional ships and drawings of shipwrecks for collectors around the globe, obsessed with the nautical theme.

Sergal and Panart are both part of the Italian giant Mantua Models, known worldwide for their elaborately designed ship model kits. They are pioneers of laser cutting technology in this field, being one of the first to use this technology to produce model kits with accurate designs for experienced modelers.

In appreciation of the quality of products and services offered by Premier Ship Models, one of its delighted clients recently remarked, "I thank you for all the photos, and as I have believed from the start of the project, you have produced a remarkable model."
