

Select your solution for Household Problem Wastes

ECOACTIV is launching a new cost effective collection station in January 2015. This low-cost product is the ideal system for managing Household Problem Wastes such as handheld batteries, light bulbs, fluoro tubes, printer cartridges and mobile phones.

The recycling stations have been developed to meet the needs of local councils, and are ideally suited to council foyers, service centres, libraries, community houses and educational institutions.

The range of modular recycling stations feature both indoor and outdoor models, and can be configured and manufactured from a variety of materials, according to your organisation's requirements. The opportunity to ensure council branding is also straightforward.

The stations are based on the highly innovative program initiated by the City of Sydney. ECOACTIV has been working collaboratively with Hal Dobbins and the City of Sydney team to implement a range of innovative recycling solutions, which include user-friendly recycling receptacles.

"Our work with the ECOACTIV team has helped ensure that the delivery of practical recycling solutions for problem wastes is uncomplicated and community-friendly. Operational experience and managing specialist recyclers is a major strength with the ECOACTIV team and this directly benefits the City of Sydney initiative." Hal Dobbins – Zero Waste Coordinator, City of Sydney

ECOACTIV Product Recovery Programs are managed by Infoactiv, a leading supply chain and environmental stewardship services organisation operating across the Asia Pacific region. Infoactiv's Environmental Management System has been independently certified to ISO 14001.

Feel free to ring or email and we can talk about pricing, materials and features ahead of the launch in January 2015.

You can download our Recycling Stations brochure here.

More information

Michael Dudley – Business Development

Infoactiv

Tel: (03) 8892 3927

Email: michael.dudley at infoactiv.com

Contacts

John Gertsakis

0409 422 089

mailto: john.gertsakis@infoactiv.com