

Referoo partners with Scout Talent to integrate online reference checking

Referoo, Australia's leading provider of online reference checks, has today announced its integration with Scout Talent, a leading provider of recruitment software solutions for internal recruiters.

The technology partnership enables Scout Talent clients to integrate Referoo's award-winning online reference checking services with their current platform.

Referoo Co-Founder, Neil Rose, said of the partnership, "Scout Talent is providing fantastic solutions for organisations with internal recruitment capability and linking Referoo to this is an exciting opportunity for both organisations. By integrating reference checking, Scout Talent clients can save both time and money while adding an additional layer of compliance to the recruitment process."

Susanne Mather, Executive Director at Scout Talent, is excited about the opportunities it will present to Scout Talent clients. "Reference checking is an integral part of the recruitment process and having Referoo's award-winning reference checking solution as a part of Scout Talent is a real win for our clients.

"Automating reference checking provides huge opportunities to reduce cost and improve response times. Being able to use this as part of an overall talent acquisition workflow means our clients can now automate the entire process, all within Scout Talent."

Scout Talent clients can trial Referoo for free for 21 days. For more information, visit the Referoo partner page.
