

RSM Bird Cameron awarded 'Transfer Pricing Team of the Year' in Thomson Reuters Tax & Accounting Excellence Awards

November 24, 2014 – RSM Bird Cameron, one of the largest mid-tier accounting firms in Australia, has been awarded 'Transfer Pricing Team of the Year' in the Thomson Reuters Tax & Accounting Excellence Awards.

The awards aim to recognise excellence across all firms and individuals in the expertise of tax and accounting in Australia.

Anthony Hayley, Transfer Pricing Principal, RSM Bird Cameron, said, "RSM Bird Cameron is privileged to receive this award.

"Transfer pricing is the number one commercial, fiscal and risk management issue currently facing multinational business. This is largely driven extremely volatile and dynamic transfer pricing regimes both domestically and internationally. This challenging environment is compounded by the OECD's base erosion and profit shifting (BEPS) initiative. It is therefore essential that clients have in place a coherent strategy to deal with these challenges and opportunities.

"This award is testament to RSM Bird Cameron's cohesive and flexible transfer pricing team which brings together skills from all its Australian offices to service clients on a local, regional and global level."

RSM Bird Cameron's transfer pricing team offers advice on issues such as international tax, BEPS and corporate finance, taking into account all relevant factors rather than providing transfer pricing advice in isolation. RSM Bird Cameron has also formed a Global Tax and BEPS Working Group, led out of Australia. A more integrated and holistic approach is essential to our clients in order to provide a seamless multinational service. -ENDS-
