

Schiller Legal advised NLR, a global leading sim-racing manufacturer, on licensing deal with iRacing

Schiller Legal, led by Vala Setareh, has advised Next Level Racing (NLR), a global leading sim-racing manufacturer headquartered in Australia, on its licensing partnership with racing simulation service iRacing.

iRacing is hyper-realistic virtual racing league. NLR builds one of the best racing cockpits (also used by professional drivers).

The new alliance will marry the top players' hardware and software expertise to provide a truly amazing experience for sim racers.

It was a pleasure working with Kam Khadem (Head of Brand and Strategic Growth) and CEO and Founder Hess Ghah on this exciting collaboration with iRacing.

There is more cool stuff in the pipeline and we look forward to being part of NLR's growth journey.
