

Stinky Ninja Kids Songs Get Funky With Ishan Cooper

Debut kids album and animated video starts rocking with inclusion of funky licks.

Stinky Ninja is pleased to announce that funk star Ishan Cooper has begun recording music for the Stinky Ninja debut album. Ishan Cooper and Vashti Perera are collaborating to bring together some of the best musicians in the business to produce an amazing sound. Each song on the Stinky Ninja album educates and entertains with funny lyrics, talented musicians, and a cartoon video.

Melbourne based guitarist, producer and songwriter extraordinaire Ishan Cooper has a can-do attitude and kick-around aesthetic that equally recalls both golden-age funk and soul and 90's hip hop. Ishan Cooper is an energetic, charismatic and typically restless artist. Cooper's latest album was vocalised and co-written by the imminently recognizable Angelo Moore, front man for genre-mashing LA ska-funk- punk legends FISHBONE.

"We are so lucky to have two multi-talented artists working together on Stinky Ninja", commented Adam Sivell co-producer of Stinky Ninja. Adam went on to say "Children and parents around the world will be dancing, laughing, and learning from a fabulous collection of songs that span across a wide selection of the musical universe."

"We can tell when we are on a winner when our own children spontaneously start bopping along to the tracks on the Stinky Ninja album", observed Ishan Cooper.

Stinky Ninja has twelve children's songs in production with a release targeted towards the end of 2017.
