

Ten Tragically Beautiful gifts for World Goth Day

World Goth day on May 22 celebrates goth sub-culture

Goth is the sub culture which never went away. Almost 40 years after its genesis, the movement continues to inspire lovers of romance and chilling mystery. Australian gothic and alternative e-commerce site Tragic Beautiful leads the way in producing quirky, original dark décor and gothic home accessories for those whose taste lie outside an IKEA catalogue. Priced from an affordable $34.95, the range spans from coffin-shaped lipstick holders, serving platters and bookshelves to occult-themed wall hangings and candle holders. Got a goth BFF?
