Today marks an exciting major step as we team up with India's leading startup, TNCIL Group! TNCIL (aka The Network Chef) focuses on digital infrastructure solutions & consulting, helping businesses to migrate into new and improved digital transformation requirements.

TNCIL offers Cybersecurity consulting to customers as one of its specialised services.

With a mix of young and experienced team members with the passion to transcend new opportunities and help customers to travel the journey smoothly, TNCIL believe that new technology is the key to helping businesses achieve great things in the digital age. And importantly, security is one of the key components in this success.
