Ripple Massage

Unique style of massage? Here are four to choose from Swedish? Boring

Remedial? Can hurt too much

Relaxation? Been there, done that.

A chocolate massage? Now you are talking!

Ripple is far more than a mobile massage service. Australia's foremost specialists in bringing the day spa to you, Ripple have developed a number of unique massage styles to give their clients a taste of something new.

At Ripple you can choose from the following..

Chocolate with no calories Two of a woman's favourite words, chocolate and massage, in the one treatment. Ripple's chocolate massage brings all the decadent aromas with none of the calories. Each treatment includes a chocolate gift box exclusive to Ripple including a chocolate soap, chocolate candle and a little box of chocolates for those who want to indulge

Honey Massage Exclusive to Ripple - Nestled in the Numimbah Valley, under the scented gums, is a hive of activity.... Literally. It is here that Ripple Massage sources its golden honey for its just-launched honey massage

"Honey is magic for the skin," said Alison Shaw, owner of Ripple Massage. "It promotes tissue growth and is fabulous for exfoliation. Amino acids help retain the skin's natural moisture and antioxidants assist in reversing skin damage. As soon as we found this boutique honey, I knew we had to use it to create a unique massage." Ripple massage therapists massage the warmed honey with oil and hot towel off as they go, so you are left with silky skin, infused with the honey aroma and none of the stickiness.

Russian Massage Exclusive to Ripple in Australia. A beautiful and deeply relaxing style it is fantastic for letting go of stress and tension. It is based on techniques that have been used extensively in Russia for over 100 years, and is based on the philosophy that through massage the body can learn to heal, relax and repair itself.

Russian massage uses some unique techniques such as crestring friction (where the top halves of the fingers are used to massage along the back) and also involves the rocking and movement of the body to release stress. It is a very slow, beautiful peaceful style of massage that is perfect for those wishing to escape the stresses of modern living.

Seashell Massage Unique to Ripple. Using a mix of reef shells, including speckled cowries, ginger scallops, lions paw fans and elegant sun dial shells, this style of massage taps into the energy of the shells whilst giving a deep and calming massage.

The shells are used in a mix of ways. Some like the cowries are heated, and aromatherapy oils are poured into the crevasse to warm before being trickled onto the body. The smooth domed surface is also used with hands on massage to release muscles. The shells are used both to de stress and for deeper tissue work.
