

WE HAVE A GOALCAST SPEAKER AMONGST US!

PRESS RELEASE Media Contacts: Cindy Rochstein, Cindication PR 0437 094 049 / cindy@cindication.com / www.cindication.com Melissa Coleman, Cindication PR 0409 002 088 / melissa@cindication.com / www.cindication.com For Immediate Release 19 December 2019 WE HAVE A GOALCAST SPEAKER AMONGST US! If you don't know who Goalcast is, they are the premiere international organization that selects the top speeches on the planet to promote purely to benefit the world, and now they want Dion Jensen's speech: 'Make Peace With The Mirror' out in time for Christmas. Cindication previously announced international promotion rights for global sensation, Dion Jensen - Inspirational Speaker, Corporate Trainer and Clinically Endorsed Author, in a collaborative joint venture based upon a shared world vision. Due to the massive interest in Goalcast wanting Dion's speech, and speaking engagement requests coming thick and fast for 2020, Dion has requested that not only is Cindication the global promoter for his message, but also his international booking agency! With Dion due to book out for 2020, this press-release is to give you advance notice that Cindication will only take bookings for Dion from 1 February 2020, to allow him to finish off his last speaking commitments. If you didn't investigate Dion Jensen when we notified you earlier, or you missed the release; Dion is a dynamic and refreshing solution-focused trail blazer in the mental health/psychosocial and cultural transformation space. A specialist leader and manager, Dion was headhunted to fulfil corporate leadership and management roles, where he showed a unique skill of increasing engagement, productivity and revenue by treating staff as VIP's (Value, Identity, Purpose). He has a proven track record in the corporate arena combined with his frontline experience that includes military, law enforcement and bodyguarding backgrounds, and it was through these avenues Dion was able to provide solutions to issues that others were too scared to tackle, such as mental health, corporate bullying and loss of engagement productivity and revenue. A breath of fresh air with a dynamic and interesting approach, Dion utilises his original content and life experience to inspire, motivate and transform lives through books, speeches, workshops, events and retreats. Known in the marketplace as 'The Confidence Coach'; Dion has the unique ability to increase confidence in people, processes and products, starting with the most important component: People. "The greatest power we possess is how we make another human being FEEL" Dion Jensen. Individually Dion helps teach people 'How to Make Peace with The Mirror' and organizationally he teaches "How to Increase Engagement, Productivity and Revenue." His speciality and why he can work across industries, cultures and countries, is because he understands intrinsically the relationship between people and processes. It is this understanding combined with his own VIP concept, that makes him unique. Dion is often promoted to Multi-National Companies with personnel in Australia and New Zealand for his Mental Health Solutions attitude, where his 'Solutions not awareness creates change' approach (shades of Peter Drucker's 'Culture eats strategy for breakfast') has seen him share global stages with other thought-leaders, from All Black's Leadership, New Zealanders of the Year and Asian Business and Community Leaders. As the author of two clinically endorsed books on mental health, Dion can speak from experience with full credibility and authority, however his delivery style ensures that he connects emotionally, intellectually and authentically with an audience. Dion has written, 'The VIP of Mental Health' and 'The first Good News Book about PTSD'. Not content to 'just talk about it', Dion has recently launched a National Mental Health initiative for New Zealand for frontline staff starting with teachers, so he definitely 'walks the talk'. Historically, Dion Jensen and Cindy Rochstein have a strong professional relationship and shared values. As fellow authors and speakers, they presented on stage and on National Radio together in Singapore last year, and Dion was the first International Ambassador for 'Pencils Community', Cindy's social enterprise that sees discarded stationary items, re-bundled, re-purposed and re-distributed to children in need around the world. "We were excited to secure international promotion rights for Dion, but to be involved in the screening and qualifying of prospective speaking clients, shows the level of trust he has in us to only book engagements with organizations with pure motives." said Cindy Rochstein, Founder of Cindication. Cindication has over 20+ years of experience in PR & Communications and has worked with charities including Suicide Prevention, Education, Sustainability and Humanitarian Charities, Health and Wellness and PTSD. Working with large complex global businesses, Cindication provides media suite services for global and national business professionals as well as advocacy for Humanitarian groups helping them embrace the concept of everyone has a message to share. #SmallPeopleBigVoices. FOR MORE: If you would like to book Dion Jensen to speak, bookings requests will be processed from the 1st of February 2019 through speakers@cindication.com However, if you have an urgent speaking engagement, or interview requirement, Dion has given permission to be contacted at Dion@dionjensen.com (Urgent enquires only please.)
