

Zealous System Accomplishes Microsoft Gold Partner Competency

Zealous System, a passionate software & application development company, has achieved Microsoft Gold Certification in the Microsoft Partner Network with its brightest thinkers & expert professionals.

We have participated and demonstrated our passion and skills towards modern web application development in today's dynamic business world.

The Microsoft Gold Partner Certification indicates that the company has high-level capability in developing large-scale business solutions. To earn this certification, our web app development team completed a series of challenging tests to prove our level of expertise in Microsoft technologies. And we also submitted client references testifying successful project deliveries.

All of our web application development team members have worked really hard in proving their expertise and are very happy together that we've accomplished Microsoft Gold Partner Certification.

"We feel extremely pleased to be one of the top IT companies from all over the world to hold this significant Microsoft Gold Partnership certification. It shows our expertise and commitment in the IT industry and proves that we have the technical capabilities, the right team, right strategy, and right vision to help our clients grow their businesses with high-quality business solutions. We will also continue to work hard to add new certifications in our basket." Comments Pranjali Mehta, Managing Director at Zealous System.

What It Means We Can Do for You?

The benefits offered by Microsoft Partner Network allows us continuously improve our services and deliver better value to our clients through our expertise in Microsoft Technologies for web development.

The Microsoft partnership allows us to receive access to latest releases, trainings, and dedicated Microsoft support. This means, we get early product information, releases, and features through Microsoft community that helps us ensure our clients receive best out of its latest technologies.

About Microsoft Gold Partnership Program

Through this program, Microsoft allows partner companies to provide high-level solutions for businesses as well as enterprises. This partnership program was developed to bridge the gap between client's requirements and the best solution for their existing or potential customers.

Microsoft launched this partnership program to distinguish the business experts from the beginners in web application development area.

About Zealous System

Zealous System is mobile, desktop, and web application development company specializing in providing full-scale business solutions to unlock the potential of its clients' ideas.

We are serving multiple enterprises as well as small-and-medium companies to build cutting-edge web, software, desktop, and mobile applications using Agile Methodologies.

Zealous System composes a team of skilled professionals who are not just talented, but hold significant experience in building custom applications for wide array of industries including Healthcare, Government, Finance, Real-Estate, Retail, Education and on-demand solutions.

For more details, visit: www.zealousys.com

Contacts

Pranjal Mehta

+91 9925016519

mailto: marketing@zealously.com